

SURVEYING THE LINE.

Company of Surveyors Leave Deming this week to lay out the route.

HO FOR THE MANANA ROAD!

portion of Surveyors Leave Tuesday and the Indians left yesterday.

Estimates the cost of irrigating Palomas Lands will also be made.

It now looks as though the parties holding the concessions for building the railroad south into Mexico from this point mean business. And to strengthen its appearance in the matter a party of surveyors are now in the field laying out the proposed route.

Those in the party are, Col. P. R. Smith, F. R. Smith, Jr., T. H. Todd, Tom Hathaway, J. Weston and Mr. Morris; the latter three leaving Deming's Sunday morning with the "truck" wagons and necessary tools and instruments, while the first three mentioned followed yesterday.

Besides surveying the proposed line of railroad, Mr. Todd will make estimates of the cost of irrigating the Palomas lands, lying adjacent to the proposed road, and also estimate the cost of building a dam across the Boca Grande, intermediate ditches etc.

The people of Deming and those living and having interests in that section of the country through which the proposed line would run, have waited patiently for ten years to see this road built, and, from present appearances, it seems that they are now to be rewarded for their long and weary waiting. So it's on, for the Manana railroad! And all rejoices in, at least, the thought, that "all things come to him who waits."

WILL GO TO GLOBE.

The Santa Fe is preparing to build to that point from Deming.

A dispatch from Los Angeles to the Arizona Daily Star says: "It is stated at the office of the Santa Fe, in this city, that surveyors are at work surveying a route for a railroad from Deming, N. M., to Globe, Arizona. The line will come as directly as possible to Duncan, thence to Solomonville and so on through the valley to Globe."

The Santa Fe people have been considering the project for some time of running a road from Phoenix to Globe, and if this is done, the road will undoubtedly be built over the route mentioned above. It will connect the two great lines controlled by that company, and also tap Arizona's mineral, agricultural and timber region. It will also give to Arizona direct communication both east and west over the Santa Fe system."
